ComStage MSCI Pacific ex. Japan UCITS ETF

The ComStage MSCI Pacific ex. Japan UCITS ETF is an exchange-traded investment fund (Exchange Traded Fund, "ETF") linked to the performance of the MSCI Pacific ex Japan TRN Index. ComStage ETFs combine the advantages of a traditional investment fund and the tradability of a stock. The EU Fund Directive „UCITS" stipulates that all fund inventory are segregated assets ("Sondervermögen"). Should an investment company file for insolvency, ETF assets are not affected because they are held in an account separated from the asset manager's balance sheet. The Net Asset Value (NAV) of an ETF is calculated daily by the custodian bank independently. ComStage ETFs are traded continuously on several stock exchanges just like equities. Other than actively managed funds, ETFs do not charge entry and exit fees when traded via stock exchanges. Instead transaction costs apply as with standard equity trades. ETFs can also be traded over-the-counter (OTC) through market makers.

Index description

The MSCI Pacific ex Japan TRN Index is weighted by free-float market capitalisation, and is designed to replicate the performance of the developed equity markets Australia, Hong Kong, Singapore and New Zealand in the Pacific region excluding Japan, on a total return basis, with net dividends reinvested. The index consists of about 145 constituents and covers about 85% of the free-float market capitalisation of each country.

The net dividends reinvested in the index correspond to the respective gross dividends less a notional withholding tax. At present the rate used for this is the maximum withholding tax rate levied on foreign domiciled institutional investors who do not benefit from a double taxation convention.
